HIBERNIANS

Revelled by the People of Ashland With Open Arms.

Most Successful and Harmonious Convention Yet Held in Kentucky.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Was Also in Session at the Same Time.

OFFICERS FOR NEXT TWO YEARS

Fifty strong the Louisville representatives of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary left the city Sunday morning in a special coach over the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad for Ashland, where the most harmonious and successful convention in the history of the Ancient Order in Kentucky was held on Monday and Tuesday. At Lexington the Louisville delegation was joined by the Paris contingent, while the Covington and Newport delegates came by the way of Ironton.

Arriving at Ashland the Hibernians were received at the depot by an immense crowd of people, headed by Messrs. Thomas M. Howard, Sr., J. B. Burdiss, Sr., and Thomas Howard, Jr., and the Ladies' Auxiliary. The visitors were escorted to the Commodore Hotel, where an informal reception was held, followed by a Dutch lunch, refreshments, cigars, etc. When all had been refreshed calls were made for both the Howards, father and son, State President George J. Butler, Judge Michael T. Shine, Thomas Keenan, County President P. J. Welsh, Squire Patrick T. Sullivan, Con J. Ford and others, who responded with short and happy talks, each speaker taking occasion to pay nice tribute to State President Butler for his hard and indefatigable efforts during his term. Upon all sides were evidences of the friendly feeling for the Ancient Order, and numerous banners were displayed about the city bearing the words, "Lead Me to the Faithful" and "Welcome to Our City, A. O. H. and L. A."

Sunday evening there was a largely attended and most enjoyable reception and ice cream social at the beautiful residence of County President Thomas Howard, Sr., on West Winchester avenue, at which the local Ladies' Auxiliary assisted in receiving. More hospitality was dispensed most generously, and with instrumental and vocal music a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Bright and early Monday morning all were astir and ready for the work before them. Assembling at the hall of the Ashland Hibernians a parade was formed, and headed by the Ashland Concert Band and several Irish and American flags and banners the ladies and everybody marched to St. Francis church, making a splendid showing at various points along the route. The high mass began with the Rev. Father Cusack, of Covington, as celebrant, assisted by Rev. Father Marks, of Cincinnati, as concelebrant, and Father Snyder, of Ironton, as sub-deacon.

Right Rev. Bishop Maes, of Covington, occupied his throne and preached an eloquent and forceful sermon, taking for his text: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, thy whole mind and thy whole soul, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." The Bishop showed himself very familiar with the history of the Ancient Order and the history of Ireland, calling attention to the fact that Ireland was the only nation that had never turned on Holy Church, but had remained faithful and true since St. Patrick had planted the seed of God's faith upon her soil. Continuing the Bishop said when you speak of an Irishman it is a synonym for a Catholic. The Hibernian was the first Catholic Irish and Irish second. He paid a glowing tribute to the order in saying that the Hibernians were the first to give $50,000 for the endowment of a chair in the Catholic University, of which he was a director. At the close of the mass the entire congregation, led by the choir, sang "God Save Ireland" in a manner that was spirited and edifying.

Headed by the band the march was resumed, the parade being over the principal streets to the Commodore Hotel, where the sessions of the convention were held. James B. Burdiss, Sr., Chairman of the Reception Committee, welcomed all to Ashland on behalf of Mayor A. H. Moore, who had been unavoidably called to Portsmouth. State President Butler responded on behalf of the order, and thanked the Ashland members and citizens in general for the hospitable reception tendered the State convention. Rev. Father Cusack, of Covington, then opened the convention with prayer and made a few remarks, urging members to attend with close attention to the sacraments regularly for the good example they would set for others.

State President Butler appointed State Secretary William J. Connelly, County President P. J. Welsh, County President Thomas Howard, Sr., Judge M. T. Shine and James Callery as the Committee on Credentials. While this committee was preparing its report the convention was addressed by Attorney Thomas Walsh, of Louisville, who was given a hearty reception, close attention and at the close was loudly applauded. The Credentials Committee reported fifty-three delegates present and entitled to seats in the convention.

President Butler next read his report for the past two years, which showed the Ancient Order in Kentucky still vigorous and loyal, but he urged that united efforts be made to increase the membership. He also made a brief report for himself and County President Welsh of the work of the national convention at Portland. The following committees were next announced, after which the convention adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Rules and Finance—Judge M. T. Shine, D. J. Coleman, A. J. Toner, P. J. Kane, M. J. Ryan.

Constitution and By-laws—P. J. Welsh, P. T. Sullivan, Joseph McBrean, John Hennessy, M. Purdie, Sr.

Grievances—J. B. Dempsey, H. J. Brady, James J. Maloney, Thomas Walsh, John Seery.

Press—Joseph Seery, B. H. O'Kelly, John Sheridan, John J. Barry.

Officers' Reports—Thomas Howard, Sr., Thomas Lynch, Phil Donnelly, P. H. O'Kelly, Con J. Ford, Military, Insurance and Ladies' Auxiliary—John Callery, John Winn, Thomas Langan, D. L. Reed, George McCullough.

Resolutions—Thomas Walsh, J. M. Brennan, Thomas Murray, Thomas Hester, Thomas Check.

Following the adjournment the delegates and visitors were taken on automobile rides over the town and adjacent country and some were taken for a fifteen-mile interurban ride to Huntington, W. Va. The dance at Clydesdale on Monday evening proved the piece de resistance. There were Irish firs and reels in addition to dances for the younger folks, but the quadrilles brought out some dancing talent that proved pretty shifty with the heel and toe, notable among the number being D. J. Coleman, John Hession, J. B. Burdiss, Thomas Lynch, Will Connelly, John J. Winn, Squire P. T. Sullivan, Thomas Howard, Sr., John Hennessy and P. J. Welsh. This was one of the happiest social occasions during the convention and was attended by several hundred people.

Upon the recommendation of the By-laws Committee the rule requiring the nomination of officers by ballot in State conventions was abolished. The Resolutions Committee reported resolutions endorsing the Kentucky Irish American and recommending it to the members for their hearty support.

Another resolution that was unanimously adopted provides that the State officers and a committee of three members will meet jointly with a similar committee from the German-American Alliance with full power to act.

Other important resolutions that received favorable consideration recommended the State officers and committee to hold in August immediately following the national convention, and that the promotion of the study of Irish history be advocated and urged everywhere.

The convention made a generous donation to the Rev. Father Cusack as an appreciation of the many courtesies received at his hands, and then adjourned for dinner. Upon assembling the election of officers was the first order. The Rev. Father Cusack, in a nice speech placed before the convention the name of George Donnelly for State President, and his election was by acclamation. The State officers elected to serve for the next two years are:

President—George Donnelly, Covington.

Vice President—Patrick Kaue, Paris.

Secretary—William J. Connelly, Louisville.

Treasurer—Thomas M. Howard, Jr., Ashland.

The election was very harmonious and the hearty support of all the delegates was pledged the new officers. It was noted with much pleasure that for the first time in Kentucky all the State officers had been elected by acclamation.

Upon the invitation of the Jefferson County delegation the Louisville delegation was selected as the place for holding the next convention. The following resolution was read and adopted amid great applause:

The delegates of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in State convention assembled at Ashland, Ky., recognizing and fully appreciating the royal welcome that has been extended them by the good people and by the officers and members of Division I, of Ashland; therefore be it Resolved, That this convention desires to express its deep sense of gratitude for the very kind and hospitable manner in which the delegates and visitors have been welcomed and entertained and the many courtesies shown them on every hand. The occasion has been a most delightful one for all the delegates, and hereafter they shall always recall it as among the most pleasant memories of their lives.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the press, and that the same be spread upon the minutes of this convention.

President Butler announced the appointment of Judge M. T. Shine, James M. Hunt and Thomas Langtry as the committee to act with the State officers and the German-American Alliance.

The newly-elected officers were next installed, and after a number of short talks, in which Father

Cusack advocated support of the Catholic press, declaring there should be a Catholic newspaper in every Catholic home, the most successful Hibernian convention ever held in Kentucky was brought to a close.

At a meeting of the new State Board before leaving Ashland the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnell, of Louisville, was the unanimous selection for State Chaplain, and Messrs. George J. Butler, Patrick J. Welsh and William J. Connelly were appointed a special committee to notify him of the action taken and ask his acceptance of the position.

The attendance at the banquet in the Ventura Hotel dining-room on Tuesday evening represented the flower of Ashland, about 125 being present in addition to the out-of-town people. The banquet was opened with prayer by Right Rev. Bishop Maes, and after the sumptuous menu was disposed of a short address was made by John E. Purcell, toastmaster, followed by the Reverend Bishop, who in a short address made special mention of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the fact that they were able to accomplish, Hon. E. B. Hagar followed in a welcome address on behalf of Mayor Moore, which was warmly received. State President George J. Butler prefaced his remarks by heartily thanking the people of Ashland for their courteous and hospitable treatment and said that his trip to Ashland would always be a pleasant memory.

Rev. Father Gosselin, pastor of St. Francis church, thanked the members for the edifying sight they had given the congregation of Holy Church in the city of Ashland. Judge M. T. Shine spoke on "Ireland, Its Glories and Sorrows," and delivered one of the most eloquent addresses ever heard on that subject. Father Altmyer showing himself familiar with the history of the Green Isle, past and present, and at the conclusion of his address was given an ovation. Thomas Walsh kept the audience in a continual uproar of laughter for the actual period of twenty-eight minutes, many of his stories being impromptu, occasioned by one or two ladies making thrusts at his bachelor life. The programme closed with the rendition of "My Wild Irish Rose" by Miss Mary Corcoran, and the entire audience joining in "God Save Ireland," with Miss Mary Butler as accompanist.

The State convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held in Lord's Hall at Ashland, and was fully as successful as the convention of the men. All of the divisions were reported in flourishing condition and the officers were gratified over the full representation.

Miss Margaret C. Doyle, of Covington, the State President, presided over the deliberations of the convention, in which the best of feeling prevailed. Miss Doyle announced the following as the committees for the convention:

Auditing—Fannie Kennedy, Lotie Summers, Catherine Howard, Mrs. Woods, Sallie Moran.

Memberships and Finance—Nellie Downey, Elizabeth Murphy, Mary Burdiss, Julia Burke, Mary Joyce.

Resolutions—Mamie Curran, Sallie Mahoney, Mrs. O'Neill, Nellie Schurto, Jennie Sexton.

By-laws—Bertha King, Sallie Cullen, Grace Howard, Mrs. Dempsey, Mrs. Cross.

Grievances—Josie Godfrey, Mary Murphy, Susie Messersmith, Kate Burke, Kate Cummins.

Press—Nellie Nolan, Lula Murphy, Mrs. Howard, Mary Kelly, Julia Kelly.

Rules—Mrs. D. Dougherty, Jennie Eagan, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Lavin, Kate Bradley.

There were no changes made in the laws of the auxiliary, and this expedited the business of the convention and furnished the ladies opportunity to take full advantage of the cordial reception that awaited them everywhere. They received a number of the clergy and also an official visit from representatives of the State Board, who brought words of encouragement from the order body then in session. The election of State officers resulted in the choice of the following:

President—Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, Louisville.

Vice President—Catherine Howard, Ashland.

Secretary—Lulu Murphy, Covington.

Treasurer—Sallie Moran, Newport.

Further reports of their proceedings will appear next week, this issue being overcrowded.

CONVENTION NOTES.

A group photograph of the delegates and also one of the ladies was taken in front of the Hotel Ventura. A party of delegates headed by Con J. Ford discovered the only Hibernian in Catlettsburg.

Many delegates went short on sleep, as the jokesters kept the halls filled with hilarious serenades until early morn.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary are anxious to discover the identity of the ghost who prowled about the hotel at midnight.

State President W. J. Connelly received an ovation when his name was presented to the convention.

The President Butler promised to be still a hard worker in the ranks.

D. J. Coleman and John Hennessy were urged to run for State President, but both declined.

Squire Patrick T. Sullivan was a prominent figure and worker in the convention.

Ghosts are pretty hard hitters, as one member of the auxiliary can testify, having received a black eye from the wandering spirit.

WARNS

His Hearers Against Triple Alliance of World, Flesh and Devil.

Father Vaughan Explains His Attitude Toward Protestants.

Calls Racial Suicide Constructive Tension Against Law of God.

CRIES OUT AGAINST DIVORCE

Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, the able and eloquent English Jesuit, whose utterances at the Eucharistic Congress attracted widespread attention and much comment, was the guest of the Montreal Catholic Sailors' Club, before whom he delivered his lecture on "Religion, Divorce and Suicide," and also explained his attitude toward Protestantism. The lecture was a masterpiece of its kind and exposed the many vague and shadowy systems of religion that are without goal or guide.

Father Vaughan declared it is a healthy sign that there should be a general recognition that the religious element has some important function to perform in the evolution which society is undergoing. But religion, to be of practical use, must be definite in its dogma and doctrine; it must be able to withstand the strain which temptation and trial put upon it; and it must have the power of reforming the lives of men. Yes, it must give us something to come back to when he has forgotten himself; it must teach and help him not only to get right but to keep right with God.

Attempts have been made by some modern writers to persuade the world that the good influences of Christianity in the past was due to the truths of moral philosophy which were found to be bound up with what they pleased to call "silly superstitions and childish extravagance," suitable perhaps to a Christianity in its infancy, but which, out of date and out of place in philosophy's growth to maturity and better sense. But, truth to tell, there is nothing more delusive than the comparisons between the teachings of Christ and the philosophy of the pagan world. Philosophy hopes to cure the vices of human nature by appealing to the head, and Christianity by educating the heart. Greece undertook to educate man's mind, Rome to subdue his will, but it was left for the Catholic church to win and train his heart. She alone has the key to his inmost heart.

I have been charged during my stay here by the press with attacking Protestants. Nothing has been further from my wish. For a large percentage of them I have the truest and deepest respect, feeling as I do that if we Catholics had to share should long since have died of starvation. They set us Catholics in too many instances the object lesson. My so-called "attack" is not directed against Protestants, still less to condemn Protestants, while I presume that I am well within my rights in weighing Protestantism in the scales of the sanctuary, and in proclaiming aloud the results of my investigation. It would be ridiculous in me, who as a Catholic am bound to profess my religion to be the one and only form of Christianity instituted by Christ, to minimize the difference between Catholicism and Protestantism, and to pretend when on a public platform that the dogmatic difference between us are questions of degree and not of kind. To Protestants we in this club are overwhelmingly indebted. Once more I have been accused of publicly stating that Protestants are on the wane and will soon cease to be. What I did say amounts to this, which I do not hesitate to repeat, namely, that if racial suicide is not sooner or later checked among non-Catholics their numbers must necessarily decrease until at length the birth rate, there will be an irreparable shrinkage in the non-Catholic population. If during a single generation the birth rate in the motherland has dropped from thirty-eight and thirty-seven down to twenty-five and twenty-four, per thousand, it seems to me that I was not only justified in making my statement but as a son of my country and as a Christian man I was bound not only to make it, but to ring out as loudly as I could my warning about the disastrous consequences which can not but result from the gross practice.

Many of a more short-sighted folly or of a worse policy than that of a man and woman calling themselves husband and wife, doubling up their fists and shaking them in God Almighty, while shrieking out at Him the defiance: "Thou sayest 'I increase and multiply'; not only do we despise thy law, but we defy it." I call racial suicide constructive treason against God. To live the sordid life in order deliberately to shrink its most sacred consequences is, it seems to me, to live in a state of legalized prostitution. I thank God that there is any one institution upon earth, yes, seemingly the only one unfortunately, which is about the sacred and indisoluble character of the marriage and duties about its responsibilities and duties with regard to children, that it will not for a moment tolerate even the thought of divorce, nor for less than a moment even investigate any artificial methods of checking God's will touching the fruits of the sublime, the sacred and sacramental wedded state.

Surely it requires no prophet, or son of a prophet, nor even a single glance of the prophetic vision to foretell what in course of a few generations must be the respective populations of Catholics and non-Catholics, when the former repudiate altogether divorce and racial suicide, whilst the latter tolerate and practice both. I say, I repeat, that whether in France or in England or in the United States or in Canada, there non-Catholics are so heavily handicapping themselves in the race for population with Catholics as to make it a walk-over for us, while they will even admit the running.

With all the vehemence of my soul I shout out to all whom it may concern, "Quit yourselves as men, be real husbands, do your duty as fathers, leave yourselves in the hands of God for the accomplishment of his will. Voe to them that thwart the Divine will."

ROBERT T. BURKE

Returns to Kentucky With Supreme Office in Y. M. I.

Robert T. Burke and James T. Shelley arrived home this week from the Supreme Council of the Young Men's Institute, held in San Francisco, and both expressed pleasure at again being on Kentucky soil. The Supreme officers elected are:

President—William J. Hennessy, San Francisco.

Vice Presidents—Robert T. Burke, Louisville, and H. M. Lane, Spokane.

Secretary—Charles A. Slinger, Indianapolis.

Treasurer—Michael J. McCrea, Scranton.

Directors—Maurice J. Scanlon, Indianapolis, and A. L. Will, Frostburg, Md.

Upon the suggestion of James T. Shelley, of the Kentucky jurisdiction, the Right Rev. Denis O'Donnoghue, Bishop of Louisville, was the unanimous selection for Supreme Chaplain.

The convention was in session six days and transacted a great deal of business of interest to the Young Men's Institute, that of greatest interest being the ratification of the alliance with the Catholic Young Men's National Union. After an animated debate upon the question of consolidation of jurisdictions it was deemed best to make but one change, which places Ohio and Maryland in Pennsylvania jurisdiction. The others will remain as heretofore, although there is a suggestion of three divisions, to be known as the Western, Central and Eastern.

Another important change related to the age limit, which was thirty-five years, but was raised to forty-five years. Messrs. Mahan, Keefe and Shelley, who had each served two terms, declined to hold office longer, and therefore the Supreme Board is the youngest in the history of the Y. M. I., the oldest member being under thirty-five years of age. The Supreme officers will select the next meeting place, and the honor is already being sought by Minneapolis and Detroit. The Californians entertained the convention in a most hospitable manner and every delegate was the recipient of numerous souvenirs.

CHARITIES

Will Bring Many Catholics to National Conference.

The next event to attract the attention of the Catholics of this country will be the National Conference of Catholic Charities, which opens tomorrow at Washington, D. C., and will hold its last session on Thursday. Sunday night a great public meeting will be held, presided over by Cardinal Gibbons, and it is expected that Cardinal Vanutelli, the Papal Legate to the Eucharistic Congress, will be present.

The programme called for but two addresses by laymen, one by Judge Matthew O'Donnoghue, of Louisville, and the other by United States Labor Commissioner O'Neill. The latter has been called to Europe, and therefore Judge O'Donnoghue, who left yesterday for Washington, will have the distinction of being the only layman to address the conference.

The conference will cover the whole field of charitable work and will serve to demonstrate in large measure the methods and what is being done by the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the greatest charity organization in existence.

Many papers have been printed and will be distributed to the delegates, and discussion of them will take place, the time of each one who takes part in the discussion being limited to ten minutes. It is expected delegates from as far West as Seattle will attend.

LIVED MANY YEARS.

The funeral of Daniel Greulich, the venerable and highly esteemed father of Rev. Leo Greulich, former pastor of St. Anthony's church, who died Monday following a long illness of stomach trouble, was held Thursday morning, when a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Father Seraphin, with Father Clark as deacon and Father Jerome as sub-deacon. The deceased was born in Germany seventy-nine years ago, but had made Louisville his home since 1891. Father Greulich, who is Provincial of the Franciscan Minor Conventuals, is now in Europe, where he went to attend the general conference of the order. The burial took place in St. Michael's cemetery.

UNHAPPINESS.

Fate Before Woman Who Maps Out Business Career.

Mrs. Agnes Murphy-Mulligan, the only woman member of the New York Real Estate Exchange, has announced her retirement from business after thirty years of money making. She doesn't believe that women should go into business. Their physical limitations are too great and they are almost certain, she says, to lose the ideals that are necessary for home life and the upbringing of children. Her father was William Jay Murphy, one of the pioneers in developing the Bronx and an active real estate man. His daughter studied law at the New York Law School and was graduated when she was sixteen years old. Her father died and the care of an invalid mother fell to Agnes. She took up her father's business where he dropped it and became one of the best known real estate dealers in New York City. Her husband is William G. Mulligan.

"Thirty years of business," she said, "has convinced me that woman's sphere is home and motherhood, not business. I have five girls, the oldest seventeen years old, the youngest two months, and I should consider it the greatest calamity if one of them went into business. I did it because I had to. As things are today I do not think that women should be in business. They have a place in the business world, but they should not go away from home to find it. They can remain at home and be partners with their husbands. The most successful business women are married women. Women defeat their own ends by becoming competitors. In thirty years I have seen many business women, and no thing has impressed itself on me. As soon as women get wrapped up in business they forget their homes. Most women in business lose their ideals. A girl who maps out a business career maps out a career of unhappiness."

BISHOP LUDDEN

Will Consecrate Cathedral at Syracuse On Sunday.

The Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception at Syracuse will be consecrated tomorrow with elaborate and solemn ceremonies conducted by Archbishop John M. Farley, D. D., of New York City, assisted by the Bishops of the province. These are Right Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, D. D., of Rochester; Right Rev. Charles Henry Colton, D. D., of Buffalo; Right Rev. Henry Gabriels, of Ogdensburg; Right Rev. Thomas M. A. Tully, of Albany; Right Rev. James A. McFaul, of Troy, N. J.; Right Rev. Charles E. McDonnell, D. D., and Right Rev. George A. Mundelein, D. D., Bishop and Auxiliary Bishop of the Brooklyn diocese; Right Rev. Patrick A. Ludden, D. D., and Right Rev. John Grimes, D. D., Bishop and Coadjutor Bishop of the Syracuse diocese. It is through the great zeal of Bishop Ludden that the Syracuse Cathedral has been cleared of debt and is now ready for consecration. The Cathedral was built by the Rev. James A. O'Hara, one of the pioneer priests of Central New York, and is one of the finest churches in the State outside of New York City.

FATHER CORBY.

Monument to His Memory Nearly Ready for Unveiling.

It is expected that the monument to be erected to the memory of Father Corby on the Gettysburg battlefield will be ready the latter part of next month and the unveiling ceremony will be held at that time or early in November. The memorial is now being modeled by Samuel A. Murray, of Philadelphia. It is of heroic size of bronze, representing the brave priest in the act of bestowing a blessing. The figure will be mounted on the rock from which Chaplain Corby gave the general benediction to the Catholic soldiers of the Irish Brigade as they were about to march to the support of the Union army on July 3, 1863. The statue will cost about $5,000, and more than $4,000 has already been subscribed. An effort is being made to complete the fund at once. The design has been approved by the War Department. It will contain the following inscription: "To the memory of Rev. William Corby, C. S. C., Chaplain Eighty-eighth Regiment, New York Infantry, Second Brigade, First Division, Second Corps, Irish Brigade, July 2, 1863."

NOTES FROM NEW ALBANY.

Rev. Joseph Byrne, who was called to New Albany by the death of his aunt, Mrs. Martha Parad, whose funeral took place from Holy Trinity church, returned Wednesday to Indianapolis.

Mrs. W. T. Kelly, East Main street, is in Rockford, Ind., where she was called by the critical illness of her brother, Thomas Hardy.

Mrs. John McGovern, who has been very ill at her home on East Elm street, is now convalescent, to the great relief of her relatives and friends.

BUFFALO

Ready For the Reception of the Irish Envoys Next Week.

Largest Convention the United Irish League Has Ever Held.

John Redmond and Colleagues Expected to Arrive Today.

WILL BE WARMLY WELCOMED

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists; Joseph Devlin, M. P., Secretary of the United Irish League; T. P. O'Connor and Daniel Doyle, M. P. for North Mayo, arrived at Queenstown Saturday evening on the steamer Lusitania. They comprise the special mission of the Irish party to the United States, and they were given an ovation on the eve of their departure by large crowds that had gathered there to greet them.

Mr. Redmond in a brief speech said he was going to tell the Americans that the cause of Irish freedom, instead of being subjected to the hostility of the people of Great Britain, was tied up inseparably with the well-being and freedom of the democracy of Great Britain. The struggle today, he added, was between the whole mass of democratic forces in England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, combined against the last relic of feudalism. The moment the power of the House of Lords disappeared the road to home rule, he declared, was absolutely clear. Irishmen foresaw plainly early victory for the cause.

The Irish envoys come to attend the convention of the United Irish League of America, which will be in session at Buffalo next week, and for the entertainment of which every preparation has been made. The convention will be a notable one and its action will have a far reaching effect on the Irish cause.

His Honor Mayor Fuhrmann will open the convention and will extend to the sons of Ireland freedom of the city. Mayor Fuhrmann is one of the best Mayors that Buffalo has ever had; he has made wonderful progress and has gained wonderfully in the estimation of the people since he took office. He is an ardent advocate of home rule for Ireland and for honest government.

Every large city in the country is arranging to ra meeting to be addressed by one of the delegates at least. The principal meeting, at Carnegie Hall, New York City, on October 2, will be addressed by all of the delegates. For the city of Buffalo, Hon. William J. O'Brien will preside and every Irish society in New York will participate.

At a meeting held at the Hoffman House the following delegates were appointed to represent New York at the convention: John Purroy Mitchell, Col. Louis D. Conley, Michael F. Corley, Patrick Ford, John D. Crimmins, Robert O'Flaherty, Patrick Gallagher, Matthew P. Brennan, Dr. Joseph Brennan, Dr. John C. Coyle, W. Bourke Cockran, P. A. Moynahan, Gen. James R. O'Brien, Patrick Egan and Edward O'Meara Condon.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Programme For Its Anniversary Celebration.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., will celebrate tomorrow the seventeenth anniversary of its organization, and the programme announced is one that must commend itself to its friends and the public. This organization is one that Catholic fathers and mothers are proud of, for it has safeguarded their sons, did much for the cause of charity, been public spirited and deserving of the success achieved.

The celebration will begin by the members attending a solemn high mass at St. Cecilia's church at 7 o'clock in the morning and receiving the blessed sacrament in a body. Assembling at the club house at 1:30 in the afternoon the council, headed by a band of music, will march to St. Anthony's church, where the Rev. Father Seraphin Schlang, O. M. C., will officiate at the solemn vespers and preach the anniversary sermon.

Following the vespers there will be a reunion and reception at the club house, to which Trinity and Unity Councils have been invited, when Mackin will serve refreshments in abundance. At intervals there will be short addresses by prominent clergymen and members of the Y. M. I. All members are requested to wear their badges and be present at both the morning and afternoon services.

The committee that has made the arrangements is composed of President John T. Kenney and Messrs. George J. Lantz, Samuel L. Robertson, William Kerberg, Thomas Bachman and Charles S. Reidy.

HOME FROM WEST.

Mr. J. L. Sullivan and daughters, of Rockport, Ind., have returned from a trip to the far West, all pleased with the scenery of Colorado and adjacent States, but glad to again be among their friends in Indiana.

FATHER LAMBERT.

Friends of the Very Rev. Father Lambert, D. D., the famous Catholic educator and veteran editor of the New York Freeman's Journal, and they are everywhere throughout the country, are praying for his recovery from the illness that has threatened his life for the past month. Father Lambert was stricken while spending his vacation in New Jersey with Father Quinlan, his former altar boy. Physicians attribute his condition to hardening of the arteries on account of old age, and say they would not be surprised if death came at any moment. With the rest of the Catholic press we trust that God may restore his health to the extent that he may spend still more years of service in championing the cause of his Divine Master, whom he has so faithfully served in the holy priesthood for over fifty years.

SEPTEMBER IN KENTUCKY.

The Chicago Tribune must have had Kentucky in mind when it said that in these September days it is good to turn from politics and money getting, flats and trolley cars, buying and selling, worrying about bills and quarreling, to consider the great, silent miracle that earth is spreading before the eyes of those who will see. Once more she turns the magic ball of the seasons and summer's blazing harmonies give place to the deeper and richer paint of autumn. Over the sky is in Buffalo next week, are expected to draw a subtle veil, as if that magic arrive at New York today. They will element which blesses Italy had received a hearty welcome from all spread across the Atlantic, to soften except the disgruntled editor of the our garish American light. In the meadows masses of boltonia wave in the wind. The golden rod is turning to a bronze more beautiful than its earlier gold, but the sunflowers cling to the gay yellow of their prime. The first birds of the migration have come.

There is no land under the sun where autumn should be prized as it should be with us, because there is no land where its serene and suggestive beauty is more needed to refresh the spirit. The high keyed life of America, the hurry and striving, belong perhaps to a race like ours. But all the more do we need some moments of that rich thoughtfulness which earth in autumn inspires. If in the civilization we are making there must be, in the main or for centuries to come, that which belongs to the hard brightness of our atmosphere and the clear cut outlines of our landscape, all the more do we need to dwell sometimes on beauty that turns the spirit inward, that beckons the soul.

DEBS GONE CRAZY.

That Eugene V. Debs, years ago held in respect by the American workmen, has gone crazy on Socialism can no longer be doubted. The Kentucky Irish American has always warned its readers and bread-winners against the Socialists and their anti-American and false doctrines. Every man who loves this country and its free institutions should ponder over the utterances made by the Socialist leader, which certainly prove all our former contentions.

Last Sunday Debs opened the fall campaign of the Socialist party in Chicago in a speech that shows him in his true colors. He launched into philippics against the United States Supreme Court, the National Constitution, labor unions, Federal Judges and finally individuals. In the latter class he named Theodore Roosevelt, John Mitchell, Samuel Gompers, George B. Cortelyou, Judge Peter S. Grosscup and August Belmont.

"The Constitution of the United States," he said, "is a class document. It was prepared by the colonial capitalists with the distinct idea of keeping the working classes down. Alexander Hamilton, an aristocrat, wielded the chief influence in its framing. The Supreme Court of the United States always has been a capitalist organization. It is made up of nine corporation lawyers and its master is the trusts who control the Government in every department. The American people in some respects are the most cowardly on earth. The thing for them to do is to organize a great industrial organization, embracing all the workers and not just a collection of labor unions. The day of the labor union is passed. It was a good thing once, but now is the tool of the capitalist and the capitalist politician."

Men who preach such stuff are enemies of their country and to St. Philip Neri's parish.

accomplish their unworthy ends would not even stop at treason. The Socialist is the worst foe the American workingman has to contend with. Recognizing neither God nor country, the Socialist propaganda means ruin and distress wherever given a foothold.

DISGRACEFUL.

The First Regiment, Kentucky State Guard, made a disgraceful showing while attending the military encampment at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana. Never was a regiment more severely censured for its inefficiency and bad behavior. For years the pride of the State, the First is now a blot on Louisville and Kentucky and should be mustered out of service without further delay. The Kentucky soldiers have been charged with thievery, and so profane was their language that Chaplain Ewell Craik, of the First Regiment, took "Profanity" for his sermon at the Sunday services. The people of Louisville are certainly getting a poor return for the money invested in the Army and the maintenance of the bunch now occupying it. As now conducted the Army and regiment are a detriment to the young men of the city.

Hon. John E. Redmond, Chairman of the Nationalist party; T. P. O'Connor, Joseph Devlin and Daniel the magic ball of the seasons and summer's blazing harmonies give place to the deeper and richer paint of autumn. Over the sky is in Buffalo next week, are expected to draw a subtle veil, as if that magic arrive at New York today. They will element which blesses Italy had received a hearty welcome from all spread across the Atlantic, to soften except the disgruntled editor of the our garish American light. In the meadows masses of boltonia wave in the wind. The golden rod is turning to a bronze more beautiful than its earlier gold, but the sunflowers cling to the gay yellow of their prime. The first birds of the migration have come.

The recent elections have so enthused the Democrats that they see chance for gaining thirteen seats, which would place them in control of the next United States Senate. They are confident of electing a majority of the House of Representatives.

MOURN HER DEATH.

Announcement of the death of Miss Katherine O'Sullivan, only daughter of M. O'Sullivan, editor of the Shelby Sentinel, cast a pall of gloom over Shelbyville last Saturday. Miss O'Sullivan fell a victim to typhoid fever after an illness of two months. She was nineteen years of age, and her many accomplishments and happy disposition made her a favorite with all who met her. Miss O'Sullivan graduated from the Sacred Heart Academy, this city, in 1909, and since had been assisting her father in the local department of his newspaper, and gave great promise of attaining high rank in the field of journalism. Besides her parents she is survived by two brothers, Daniel and James O'Sullivan, and an uncle, Dan McGinn, the well known ball player. The funeral took place Monday morning from the Church of the Annunciation, which was thronged with mourning relatives and friends of the bereaved family. Rev. John H. Riley was the celebrant of the mass of requiem, and in his sermon paid high tribute to the dead girl, whose life was one that all should emulate. To the bereaved parents we tender our heartfelt sympathy.

Father O'Connell celebrated the nuptial mass and read the marriage ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the worthy couple, who are well known and prominent in Catholic social circles. The attendants were Archie Kehoe and Miss Maggie Kehoe, cousins of the bride. Following a wedding breakfast the bride and groom left for the East on an extended bridal trip, and upon their return they will reside in Jeffersonville. Their hosts of friends wish them a long and happy married life.

ONCE CONVENT GIRL

Now Foremost Actress On the English Speaking Stage.

Margaret Anglin, who will appear at Macauley's next week in the "Awakening of Helena Richie," is acknowledged by critics to be the foremost emotional actress on the English-speaking stage. Miss Anglin was born in Ottawa, Canada, in the Parliament buildings, where her parents resided, her father being Speaker of the House of Commons. Her early education was obtained in the convent of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart in Ottawa and in Loreto Abbey, Toronto. It was in the latter school that Miss Anglin, as a child, first appeared before an audience. She recited a poem called "The Exile of Erin" by Campbell. The last three years of her school life were passed in a French convent in Montreal. It was at this school that Miss Anglin studied her first part.

After graduating from the convent, Miss Anglin was imbued with the histrionic spirit and armed with letters of introduction she came to New York for the purpose of studying for the stage, and in a little less than five years after entering the Empire School she was playing the leading "woman's part" in "Brother Officers" at the Empire Theatre. Later Miss Anglin appeared with James O'Neill and with Sothorn and Mansfield respectively.

Miss Anglin's stage career has been a series of phenomenal successes, like unto that of Mary Anderson. Her fame now extends over the world, and Louisville theatre-goers will doubtless show appreciation of her coming with crowded houses every night of the performance.

REMEMBERED.

Nearly a hundred members of Mackin Council assembled at the club house Saturday night, to say farewell to William P. Burke, one of its most faithful members, who has left the city to enter the Dominican order. As a token of esteem he was the recipient of a fine silver watch, a handsome meerschaum pipe and a box of cigars, the presentation speeches being made by Louis Kieffer, Dr. J. A. Casper and President John Kenney. The entire affair was a surprise, and it was with difficulty that Mr. Burke could find words to express his feelings. A number of short talks were made and all wished him unbounded success in his holy vocation.

GONE TO HER REWARD.

The remains of Mrs. Mary Omara, who died Tuesday at Monon, Ind., were brought to this city and her funeral took place yesterday from Holy Cross church. Rev. Father Sheridan officiating at the solemn obsequies. Mrs. Omara was the widow of Martin Omara, and the aunt of Squire Patrick T. Sullivan, John J. Sullivan, Mrs. Belinda King, David Garvey, Councilman Thomas Garvey and Misses Katie and Annie Mella, all of this city. For many years Mrs. Omara resided in Hardin county, and the news of her death was received with feelings of profound regret throughout the State.

WALK-OVER SHOES

Are You Particular?

The makers of WALK-OVER Shoes get out more new patterns each season than any other manufacturers. Not many radical or "freak" departures but most of the new ones are made different enough to give the WALK-OVER Shoe that indefinable mark of exclusiveness that commends it to particular dressers.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Columbus day, October 12, is now a legal holiday in fifteen States of the Union.

During the last year Indiana made a net gain of 486, bringing the membership up to 7,689.

Oregon Knights have put on their programme the making of October 12 a legal holiday in that State.

Over $50,000 has been subscribed for the new home at Milwaukee, and preparations will soon be made for a memorable house warming.

Councils everywhere are engaged in preparations for a fitting observance of Columbus day. The programmes thus far noted are of a very high order.

Indianapolis Knights made a fine showing in their greeting to the Apostolic Delegate, Archbishop Falconio, on his arrival for the consecration of Bishop Chartrand.

The pastors of Terre Haute have commended the Knights for arranging the course of free lectures to non-Catholics by the well known Paulist, Rev. Bernard Conway.

Ground has been broken for the new building the Knights will erect on Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco. It will cost $150,000 and will be fireproof. When completed it will be the equal of any society building on the coast.

When Rev. William O'Ryan celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination the Knights of Denver and the Queen's Daughters will give a reception in his honor. Father O'Ryan was ordained in Ireland, but has been in Denver over twenty years.

UNKNOWN CAUSES.

Critics Cannot Agree On Reason of Colonel's Misfortunes.

The Louisville ball club will play Indianapolis again this afternoon and tomorrow, the Sunday game being the wind-up of the American Association season. The close of the most unfortunate season of the local club has had since its advent in the league eight years ago. The Louisville team has had a run of bad luck, many accidents, bad weather, poor management, and no two critics in the city can agree on which trouble was the greatest factor in the local team's misfortunes. It is safe to say that no certain feature was the cause, but that it can be attributed to a combination of misfortunes. President and owner Grayson has had the confidence of the fans since the season opening and he has endeavored to give the town a good team and spent his money freely to that end. There is one proposition that Mr. Grayson should take into consideration for next season, the managerial end, and the popular suggestion which is on the lips of every local enthusiast, and that is secure hustling Jimmy Burke to pilot the Colonels.

GOLDEN JUBILEE.

The golden jubilee of St. Ann's parish in Covington was celebrated with great splendor last Sunday, and reflects much credit upon the pastor, Rev. William B. Ryan, and the committee who arranged the programme. Solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Ignatius, C. P., with Rev. James Cusack as deacon and Father Ryan as sub-deacon. Rev. James Gorey was master of ceremonies, and Bishop Maes preached the sermon. At the afternoon celebration Gen. Michael Ryan delivered the oration and at the parish social reunion held Monday night addresses were made by Judges Tracy and Brown. The jubilee marks an epoch that will not be soon forgotten.

RESTS IN PEACE.

The body of John Coleman, whose unexpected death at his summer home at East Hampton, L. I., last July brought deep sorrow to a wide circle of friends and relatives, arrived here Wednesday and was interred in the family lot in St. Louis cemetery, where rest his parents and other relatives. John Coleman was one of Kentucky's leading Catholic men, prominent as a financier, club man and one of the deserving poor, and rated as one of our wealthiest citizens. By his death Louisville suffered a distinct loss.

LIFE'S WORK ENDED.

The Rev. William S. Hennessy, one of the best known priests in Chicago, was called to his eternal reward last Saturday, and his death is mourned throughout the diocese.Father Hennessy was born in Tipperary, Ireland, and was educated at Mount Melteray and St. John's College at Waterford. Coming to this country, in 1890, he was appointed assistant pastor of the St. Colum-bkil's church of Chicago, where he served eight years. He established a new parish in Dauphin Park, and built St. Joachim's and St. Abie's churches. Last February he was made pastor of the Annunciation church. He was a brother of the Rev. Michael D. Hennessy, of Chicago, and Sister Rose, of St. Patrick's Academy.

HAVE NO HOPE.

The Republican convention held last Saturday at Covington failed to indorse either President Taft or Senator Bradley, and as a result their friends are very sore. Charles Striger, a Republican leader of Kentucky county, brands the convention as cowardly and predicts there will be no victory there for the G. O. P. for some time. With harmony the Democrats should win easily.

perpetrators of so dastardly an act.The death took place in Carrick-macross Workhouse Hospital recently of an old lady named Bridget McGee at the venerable age of 102 years. She was the last of an old Irish family who were remarkable for their longevity. She was a native of the district, and was hale and hearty up to a few days before her death. She attended mass every Sunday, and could read and sew without the aid of glasses. The old lady's memory was very clear, and often she would tell of the many stormy incidents of Daniel O'Connell's time. The meeting at Tara was her chief delight in recounting, for she saw and experienced the great excitement that prevailed on the day of that enormous gathering.

FRANCHISE TALKS—The Franchise Ordinances.

At the present time the gas and electric companies of Louisville are engaged in a competitive war which threatens the investment which has been made in these companies by hundreds of Louisville people of both sexes and all classes.

In addition, this existing situation makes it impossible for the companies to raise funds for necessary plant improvements and extensions of service to the outlying districts which at present are without gas or electricity.

There is only one way in which this condition can be remedied and that is by merging several concerns into one company that is financially able to give the ENTIRE city the BEST services obtainable, at EQUITABLE RATES.

Public service commissions and all other authorities agree that while competition in certain industries may be beneficial, it does not protect the interests of the consumer in the public utility field.

Competition in gas or electricity is never permanent, for sooner or later the weaker competitors are forced to retire from the field.

In order to safeguard the investment in the local companies and to assure the proper development of Louisville's gas and electric industries the several companies seek to effect a merger.

This can be accomplished only by means of the franchise ordinances now before the General Council.

The ordinances are fair in every particular and provide for LOWER RATES FOR BOTH GAS AND ELECTRICITY than are provided by the franchises which they would supersede.

In order to keep the entire franchise matter out of politics we are telling our story direct to the people of Louisville through the advertising columns of the local newspapers.

The Gas and Electric Companies of Louisville.GOING SOME.

Catholic Knights Steadily Increasing Their Number.

The Catholic Knights of Louisville are evidently awakening, and from all quarters encouraging reports are being received. Branch 642, which has been meeting at Campbell and Broadway, will hereafter have its headquarters at St. Michael's school hall on Brook street, a more central point for the members.

A rousing meeting of Branch 25 was held Monday night in St. Jo school hall at Clay and Walnut, and there was much enthusiasm when Secretary E. J. Mann issued certificates to five new members. President Meehan and the officers of this branch are determined to overtake if possible old Branch 6 at St. Martin's. The announcement of the vacancy in the office of Treasurer, caused by the sad death of Charles J. Desse, was received with feelings of deep regret. After the adoption of resolutions printed in another column J. L. Brownfield was elected Vice President, and F. R. DeLeuil was the unanimous choice for Treasurer. At the next meeting a number of important reports are looked for and a nice sum will be added to the treasury.

The work of arranging for the visits of the Supreme and local deputies to the various branches is almost completed and the dates will soon be announced.

SCHMIDT--NADORFF.

Many relatives and friends will throng St. Anthony's church at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning to witness the marriage of Miss Emma Frances Genevieve Schmidt and Charles J. Nadorff, which will be solemnized with a nuptial high mass, celebrated by the Rev. Father Seraphin, assisted by the Rev. Father Hillebrand, of Evansville, and Rev. Father Murphy. The bride-elect is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Anna Schmidt and has been a popular favorite among her wide circle of friends. She will be handsomely attired and will wear the conventional wreath and veil. Charles Nadorff has been engaged in business on Second street for a number of years and is well known and highly regarded. The ushers will be Jacob Nadorff, Matthew Goetz, Edward Nadorff and George Schmidt. Following the ceremony there will be a wedding breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's mother, 2309 West Market street. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the East, visiting Niagara Falls, Syracuse and other points, returning October 16, when they will be at home to their friends at 2120 West Market street.

FALL RACES.

The fall meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club, which will continue for nineteen days, opens next Saturday. This promises to be the best meeting ever held in Kentucky, as the entries are larger than ever before and include all the stars of the American turf. Manager Winn and Secretary Davis are enthused over the prospect.

pects, and with Judge Charles Price in the stand a season of sport is assured that will bring thousands to this city. There will be six races every day.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Rosanna Knable, who died last Friday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Bartliner, near New Albany, was ninety-eight years of age and the oldest resident of Floyd county. Her maiden name was Duffy, and she leaves a number of relatives in Louisville, among them Assistant Tax Receiver John Duffy. The funeral took place from St. Mary's of the Knobs.

John P., the infant son of John and Margaret Moran, 1721 Bank street, joined the angelic hosts last Sunday evening, leaving in deepest gloom a home made bright and happy by his coming. The little fellow was the pride of his parents, who have the sympathy of the community where they reside. The funeral took place Tuesday morning and the body now rests in St. Louis cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Johanna Schade, daughter of Clemens Schade, 429 Preston street, took place from St. Doniface church, and was attended by the Young Ladies' Sodality and other societies of which she was a highly esteemed member. Miss Schade was stricken while visiting relatives in St. Louis, but returned home and died last Saturday morning. Besides her father and mother she leaves one brother.

Holy Cross church was thronged Tuesday morning when Rev. John Sheridan held the funeral services over the remains of Miss Mary Wellington, who died Sunday after a lingering illness of heart disease. The deceased was a woman of many virtues, a favorite in her circle, and her death is deplored by all who knew her. Miss Wellington is survived by her mother, four brothers and three sisters. They are Thomas Wellington, a street supervisor for the city; Joseph, Vitus and Harry Wellington. Mrs. Vitus Miller, Mrs. Frank E. Queenan and Miss Agnes Wellington.

BISHOP AT STITTON.

Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue was at Stitton last Tuesday, and administered the sacrament of confirmation at St. Patrick's church to a class of about seventy. It being the Bishop's first visit to Stitton, he was greeted by the priests of the adjacent territory and a large congregation. The large class was prepared by the pastor, the Rev. Father Henry, who has been doing excellent work in Hardin county.

BELLEVUE.

Last Sunday Sheridan Council, Y. M. C. of Bellevue, celebrated its eighteenth anniversary in a manner most commendable. In the morning at the Sacred Heart church the members received holy communion in a body during the high mass sung in honor of the occasion. During the evening there was a reception and reunion at the new home of the council, when many congratulated the council for its energy and progress and pledged their hearty support.

PROGRESS

Being Made in Erection of St. George's Church.

Splendid progress is being made in the erection of the new St. George church on Eighteenth street, which will long stand a monument to the zeal and enterprise of the pastor, the Rev. George A. Weiss. Every evening numbers of the parishioners gather to inspect and admire the structure in which they are so interested, and it is gratifying to hear their expressions of satisfaction.

The work of installing the steam heating apparatus is being conducted by J. L. Brownfield & Co., and will be finished about October 1. This is all being done in the latest and most improved manner, and Contractor Brownfield declares that when the edifice is completed it will be one of the most comfortable churches in this diocese. Father Weiss took the parish with scarcely a handful of people, but through his untiring efforts a nice and increasing congregation has been built up. All are now anxiously looking forward to the date of the dedication of their new house of worship, which will be made a memorable event in the Catholic history of Louisville.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

At the regular meeting of Branch 25, Catholic Knights of America, held Monday night, the following resolutions, reported by Messrs. E. J. Mann, Thomas F. Hill and F. R. DeLeuil, were read and adopted:

Whereas, It was the holy will of Almighty God in his divine providence to take from our midst our brother and true friend, Charles J. Desse; and

Whereas, The branch has lost one of its most beloved and worthy members, whose place in the branch and society generally will be long remembered; and

Whereas, The State has lost a good citizen, his wife a loving and devoted husband and the children a kind, loving father, whose example both in church and home life was a pattern to follow in his way; therefore be it

Resolved, That Branch 25, C. K. of A., extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy and condolence in this bereavement, and pray God will give them strength to be reconciled to his holy will, who does all things for the best; and be it further

Resolved, That Branch 25, C. K. of A., have its charter draped for a period of thirty days out of respect for our late brother, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent the family and the Kentucky Irish American, and also entered upon our minutes.
